if it ain't broke don't fix it but it's no secret that the christian church is broke and does need fixing despite great effort things are going badly for us we've tried trendy and tech savvy entrepreneurial and coffee house gritty they're not helping our problem is deeper than that our problem is our instincts instincts informed by our story there was a time when the christian church was a powerfully transformative presence in society it can be again but it will require radical rethinking of the story that informs our instincts and it's time it's been five hundred years since the reformation our last major update today is a pivotal moment in history with our worldview upended by quantum physics history is demanding we renew the christian story for our times rethinking our story reframes the elements of the christian narrative for the new era it explores quantum ways of thinking about god human nature jesus salvation and the afterlife the future of the church and the health of our society depend on our willingness to rethink retell and live out a better story we will either update our instincts and contribute to the earth's well being or disappear into oblivion living our story explores how good narrative work the retrieval construction and performance of valued stories takes place in ministry authors larry a golemon lee ramsey n graham standish tim shapiro carol johnson mike mather niles elliot goldstein and diana butler bass examine this question from a variety of perspectives including the role of the pastor or rabbi as narrative leader the sacred and mundane stories that shape congregational life and identity storytelling as a means of community building and story sharing as a practice of hospitality through the stories they themselves tell these authors show how stories witness to god's presence in the unfolding of human life and how the best leaders craft stories that reveal how god is at work among the people and inspire them to become a part of this larger story indigenous motherhood in the academy highlights the experiences and narratives emerging from indigenous mothers in the academy who are negotiating their roles in multiple contexts the essays in this volume contribute to the broader higher education literature and the literature on indigenous representation in the academy filling a longtime gap that has excluded indigenous women scholar voices this book covers diverse topics such as the journey to motherhood lessons through motherhood acknowledging ancestors and grandparents in one's mothering how historical trauma and violence plague the past and balancing mothering through the healing process more specific to indigenous motherhood in the academy is how culture and place impacts mothering specifically if indigenous mothers are not in their traditional homelands as they raise their children how academia impacts mothering how mothering impacts scholarship and how to negotiate loss and other complexities between motherhood and one's role in the academy our hearts are restless till they find their rest in thee prophetic wisdom in a time of anguish from coleman b brown edited by michael granzen and lisa a masotta the book includes powerful reflections from chris hedges peter ochs and joshua brown excerpt from america first one hundred stories from our own history when children advance beyond the nursery age no story is so wonderful as a true story fiction to them is never as appealing as fact i have often been faced with the inquiry whether or not a story is a true one the look of gratification when told that it actually happened was most satisfying to me as a story teller the nearer a story is to the life and traditions of the child the more eagerly it is attended true stories about our own people about our neighbors and friends and about our own country at large are more interesting than true stories of remote places and people we naturally are interested in our own affairs and the nearer they are to us the greater the interest we feel about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
